Privately Owned Factories Will Save the Nation

—Says Howard E. Coffin

Chairman of the Committee on Industrial Preparedness of the Naval Consulting Board

To the Members of Congress:

The danger to the country of depending upon Government-owned munition plants is pointed out by Mr. Coffin in World's Work (May). He says:

"No one can conceive of a Government . . . which can construct and maintain in time of peace a plant which will be qualified to turn out enough munitions to supply the fighting line in time of war.

"Congressional action toward the establishment of Government-owned plants may be on a false basis.

"Even though we have Government-owned plants in the last equation, in any future war in which this country is engaged—

"It is going to be the privately owned manufacturing plants of this country which must feed the guns that will save the nation."

The average requirements of armor for the battleships of the United States have for many years been about 10,000 tons a year.

But the Government has heretofore encouraged three plants to keep available a total capacity of 30,000 tons—ready for use in an emergency.

The Naval Bill now before the Senate carries an appropriation of $11,000,000 to build a Government armor plant, making unnecessary, under ordinary conditions, the existing private plants, and destroying this important reserve factor in national defense.

Isn't It Wiser—

To maintain present plants, ample as they are, and let the Federal Trade Commission fix the price at which armor shall be supplied—

Rather than spend $11,000,000 of Public Money to build a Government plant and thus destroy an industry which the Country may some day sorely need ?
